New York Dec. 6.—The tone of the market for Industrial securities showed a feedded contrust to day to that for rail-road securities. The break in prices of the Industrials approached demonsultation by the middle period of the afternoon. Meantime the railroad stocks almost without exception held tenaciously to their prices. Late in the day the bears began to recover and wrought some very marked recoveries in the Industrial list. At the same time the railroads which that been almost stagmant, displayed some signs of animation and rose senerally above yesterday's level. Net gains in a few railroads reach a point. The late recovery in the stocks was concident with un easing in the cull moniey rate to 3 per cent, after ruing at seven to eight per cent earlier in the day. The barks were cailing toans and the movement of the Industrials suggested that they were in disabven not only with the speculative public but with the money enders, industrial collateral appurently being displaced to a greater extent than other classes. The bears were very active and made bold onstaughts on the Industrial list uncovering stoploss orders on a argo scale. The easing of the money rate aroused the supposition that the aniks had strengthened their position to a satifactory extent, promising some relef from the cathing of loans, As it was yident that the subsquent raily brought them up hom 1½ to 5 points.

The Cotton Markets.

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET. New York, Dec. 6.-A sharp break the Liverpool cotton market sufficed New York, Dec. 6.—A sharp break in the Liverpool cotton market sufficed to frighten the investment public into realizing on large amounts of January, March and May cotton, which in turn led to a similiar movement on the part of the local longs. As for the situation in general, there was practically no change to warrant any radical alteration in the policy of either side. The market oponed weak, at a decline of 4 to 8 points, and continued to fall rapidly during the first half hour under very heavy general liquidation, selling for foreign account and something like organized effort on the part of the bear crowd to dislodge long stuff. Larger receipts than predicted were used by opponents of the market were used by opponents of the market as ammunition, as were the cables. Later, however, the market slowly steadled on profit-taking by room shorts and purchases for several-staunch houses. The outside public displayed great timidity and refused to confidently take hold again, pending the receipts of to-morrow's cables. The public adivces falled to corroborate early private reports, to the effect that spot cotton in the South was weak and offered at lower prices. Private cables attributed Liverpool's sudden fall to a loss of confidence in that market on the part of the outside public, which had been influenced by reports from this side that the South was weakening. Selling orders from New York alded in depressing the English market.
